Market Trends

01 Vacancy has continued to climb throughout 2023, increasing by 320 basis points (bps) from Q4 2022. New construction is exerting upward pressure on vacancy, with 4.0 million square feet (msf) completing in Q4, of which 3.5 msf came to market vacant.

02 Quarterly net absorption, totaling a positive 2.0 msf in Q4, has remained strong throughout 2023. The largest move in Q4 stems from the Pickaway Submarket as Babylist committed to 750,000 sf of sublet space at Rickenbacker Exchange Building 2.

03 Speculative projects account for 51.0% of the 9.1 million square foot construction pipeline. Of that, 4.2 msf remains available for lease. The nearly even split between speculative and built-to-suit projects limits the risk of oversupply in the Columbus market.
